

Advance Publicity for “Adventures in Japan”

Japan is a different world. It’s thoroughly modern and at the same time it’s also incredibly ancient. In October 2019, my wife and I went on a food tour that took us to some of Japan’s largest cities and smallest places including a Buddhist monastery. Then we went on a walking tour along the ancient Nakasendo Trail, staying in traditional Japanese inns known as Ryokans. This is a story of only some of the things we learned about in Japan from bullet trains to hot spring baths to high-tech toilets.

Richard Jordan is a former President of the Etobicoke Historical Society and a former Toronto Star local history columnist. His feature articles on historical subjects have also appeared in the Saturday Star and the Sunday Star.

The photos below show some of our Adventures in Japan – ranging from food and culture to Bullet Trains and the bizarre. There are lots of great stories and great pictures along with an entertaining commentary.

